

Ada City Schools Chilly Note to Parents

With wind chills expected to drop below zero in some areas of the state, the Ada City School District would like to encourage parents :

- To dress children in multiple layers being especially mindful of protecting their hands and faces.
- To consider driving your child to school even if he/she normally rides the bus.
- To consider driving your child to the bus stop so that he/she can remain in your vehicle until the bus arrives.

Our concern is for those students who may normally walk to school or who spend an extended amount of time waiting at bus stops. Therefore, we encourage parents to take the precautions noted above. If the need arises to cancel school due to the weather or any other emergency, you can access that information at the following media outlets:
